BITTER ATTACK ON CLAXTON AND CREEL BY JUSTICE M'COY

"How much of your life have you spent in Germany?" is the point blank question with which Justice Walter I. McCoy, of the District Supreme Court, concludes a letter to Philander P. Claxton, Commissioner of Education, condemning him for his stand in regard to the teaching of German in American schools.

In his letter to Mr. Claxton, Justice McCoy stated: "I can imagine with what glee the German propagandists in this country will read your communication. And how thoroughly it will be distributed by them throughout the country. The justice takes the opportunity to reveal his feelings in regard to George Creel, head of the Bureau of Public Information, when he says: 'Could you and George Creel organize a commission, of which you and he would, of course, be members, to go to Germany and tell the Germans what nice people we think they are?'"

The letter concludes with: "I wonder whether you have any sons at the front, or whether any of your female relatives are in France, Belgium, or any other place liable to be raided by the kindly German soldiers."

ACCEPTS LOWER PAY TO AVOID TEACHING GERMAN

NEWARK, N. J., March 22.—Edgar M. Finch received $1,800 a year as a teacher in the Kearny high school. Today he signed up as supervisor of the River Edge school at a salary of only $1,500 per annum. The answer is that in Kearny he had to teach German.

"I hate the German language," he said. "One of my brothers already is wearing Uncle Sam's uniform. Another relative will soon do it."

JAPANESE PLOTTER HELD.

DETROIT, Mich., March 22.—Tom Gunn, a Japanese, said to be an accredited representative of the late imperial Chinese government, has been arrested here by Secret Service agents. Detectives charge he has been touring the country meeting wealthy Chinese and plotting to start a revolution to restore the monarchy in China.

The only real argument made for the higher price during the whole debate was that of Senator Reed of Missouri. He estimated the decrease in the buying power of the dollar at about 50 per cent, during the war period, and promised to Without reaching a vote, the House debated the bill giving graded increases of salaries to employees of the Postoffice Department drawing up to and including $2,000 a year. The increases vary from 10 to 15 per cent, with some specific increases. One of the amendments to the bill provides for depositing and redeeming postal saving stamps on dollar cards. Another authorizes experimental motor-truck routes for parcel post food deliveries in the vicinity of cities. The most interesting possibility of the bill lies in an amendment under which if peace is made before the Secretary of War awards out his immense supply of airplanes, he may then turn them over to the Postmaster General for the delivery of mail at any point between Washington and San Francisco, Maine and Texas.

Senator Sheppard of Texas introduced in the Senate, the "free zone bill," already introduced in the House, under which coast cities would have absolute free trade in manufacturing for export, while the usual tariff would hold against the "Domestic Consumer." The Domestic Consumer is no longer supposed to be a desirable citizen under the theory that if allowed "in the saddle, he will ride the horse to death." (See Senate proceedings on $2.50 wheat.)

Under the resolution introduced by Senator Thomas, of Colorado, the Secretary of War is requested to inform the Senate how many "non-combatant officers" of draft age have been commissioned since the beginning of the war.

Abraham Lincoln is credited with saying that under his Administration, "you could not throw a brick at a dog in Washington without danger of hitting a brigadier"—all the brigadiers being non-combatants. Most of them have since died pensioned, if at all.

Under a bill introduced by Senator Shields, army surgeons will be entitled to their proper rank, up to brigadier and major general.

Mr. Theodore F. Ferris appeared for his own vindication before the Senate Committee on Commerce, where he showed that his contract for a percentage on ships of the "Ferris type" were made before he entered the Government service and that he had informed his official superiors.

"It is as easy to get $170,000,000 at the psychological moment as it is to get $1,000,000," said Mr. Charles N. Chadwick, of New York. He was depositing as an expert on the use of water and water power before the House Committee on Interstate Commerce. Although he gave much valuable information, perhaps nothing else was so strictly pertinent to the "psychological moment."

"More Power" Day at the Capitol—The War Finance Bill Passes in the House—The Overman Bill Reported to the Senate. An "Administration Bill" for "Commandeering" Any Sort of Property in the United States, "Real, Personal, or Mixed"—The "Free Zone Bill" Introduced in the Senate—The $2.50 Wheat Amendment Adopted—A Black Eye for Borland—Mai by Aeroplanes and Food by Motor Truck.

By W. V. BYARS.

The struggle in the Senate Judiciary Committee closed yesterday with a recommendation to the Senate that the Overman "More Power" bill do pass. With the amendments of the committee it may be somewhat less comprehensive, but it is certainly not less radical than as first introduced. During the war period it permits any change in the administration of the Government the President pleases. The substitute reported for the minority by Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia would confine the operation of the bill to the War and Navy Departments, the Merchants' Fleet Corporation and the Bureau of Mines.

With this issue before the Senate, one still more far-reaching was presented in the "Administration Bill" introduced by Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs, who waived personal responsibility for it. It authorizes the President to "take over" for purposes of national defense any property in the United States, "real, personal or mixed," which he may think necessary. Value is to be appraised and settlement made by agreement, with the privilege of appeal to the courts in case of disagreement. 75 per cent of appraised value being payable in such cases. If the use of property only is desired, proceedings to decide what rent shall be paid may be had as in case of the railroads. A proclamation, specified as necessary in the case of real property, is not so in the case of personal property, which may be "requisitioned." Under the head of "mixed property," telephone and telegraph systems, cables and wireless systems, etc., might be classified. Mines and factories would probably be classed as real estate.

The Senate passed the agricultural appropriation bill after adopting the "Gore amendment" by a vote of 49 to 18 and by a vote of 40 to 23 striking out the "Borland amendment" adding an hour's work to the routine day of Department of Agriculture employees.

Under the Gore amendment, the minimum price of wheat will be advanced from $2 to $2.50 a bushel. In closing the debate Senator Gore condemned price-fixing in the most uncompromising terms. This, however, was only a matter of "fundamental principle." After being once committed to the vicious system, he saw nothing for it except to minimize its evils. This, of course, meant putting the price higher.

SOLDIER HEIR GETS LETTERS BY SCORES FROM LOVING MAIDS

CAMP MEADE, Md., March 22.—Private William J. Compher, of the 312th Machine Gun Battalion, who inherited $100,000, and who is yearning for a wife, is now getting more mail than any other man in the battalion.

When he heard of the $100,000 he simply said, "Things seem to come my way." Now since he mentioned his desire for a wife, letters seem to be still coming in his direction. The outlook is getting brighter with every trip the mail orderly makes to the postoffice.

The smile that used to greet the crowded Union Station, in Washington, where Compher served as a trolley inspector, and later as a policeman, breaks into a laugh as he goes through his mail. Each letter seems to be just a little sweeter than the last. Some are perfumed. Some fragrant only with kisses.

Records already filed here show that girls are marrying soldiers at a rapid rate, and that the men in olive drab are in demand for husbands. It becomes a matter of record because the man who marries reports that $15 is to be taken off his monthly pay.

You reckless men and women who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freestone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn, the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out with the finger.

It is a sticky ether compound which dries the moment it is applied and simply shrivels the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of freestone will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callous. You are further warned that cutting at a corn is a suicidal habit.

LESS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers You—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

HENS AND POTATOES GO TO PAY TAXES

GEORGETOWN, Del., March 22.—Several large fat hens and a quantity of seed potatoes, liberally sprinkled with eyes, have been tendered D. O. Moore, county tax receiver here, by George Mills, who wrote that he had no money with which to pay his taxes. "However won't let me sell the hens and I'm short of money," George wrote.

The girls in their letters express pity for the lonesome soldier. As the letters came in, Compher expressed his surprise to learn that there were so many girls. He is just a bit bewildered by the way they are coming his way. The surplus is puzzling him. He wants a wife, but he does not want to be a Turk and have hundreds of them.
